DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 21, the recitation of “the limited duration clock divider reset is independent from a reset signal” is indefinite because it misdescribes the invention. Figure 1 shows the clock divider reset signal (117) depending on the status of the counter output (110). The counter output depends on the reset signal at the reset 122. Therefore, the clock divider reset depends on the reset signal. Clarification and correction are required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese patent JP 8-29496. Figure 1 of JP 8-29496 shows a chip (201) having a circuit (103, 104) for generating a limited duration clock divider reset (106 and circuit 101 is a frequency divider shown in figure 2), wherein the limited duration clock divider reset is independent from a reset signal (RESET) used to reset the chip (201), resetting the chip (201) using the generated limited duration clock divider reset as called for in claim 21.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-20 and 22-30 are presently allowed.
